

Just Got Back From the Internet

© jason ohler, 1995

Internet ...

Whatcha gunna get on the Internet

On the Internet...

Information highway, goin' my way...

Information highway...

Just got back from the internet

Can't believe the people I met

Archie, Jughead, Veronica too

Life online's a human zoo

Where everyone wears a cybersuit

Where some are ugly and some are cute

Where no one's ever where they are

Where there's on such thing as near or far.

see, online you're every where at once...or nowhere

all at the same time...does that make sense?

Just got back from the Internet

Did a whole lot of surfing and I got real wet

Crawled the web just like a mole

Poked my head up through a gopher hole

Fanned the flames in USENET news

Checked my stocks, bought some shoes

Emailed someone that I call "Kim"

I think she's a gal...maybe she's a him...

maybe Kim's neither- maybe she's a machine

...does it matter?

Just got back from the Internet

So much happened that I forget
MUDDs and lists and IRCs
A million invisible communities.
I just can't absorb it all!
The Net's so big, my brain's so small.
Yet when I hear that modem tone,
I just thank God I'm goin' home.

Just got back from the Internet
I don't think that I'm all back yet
My body's back
So's my face
But I left my mind
In cyberspace.